England on Brink of Industrial Paralysis—Troops Rushed to Strategic Points

Attempts of Government to Secure Arbitration Appear to Have Failed

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The outcome of the strikers, almost 100,000, was decided by the Liberal government's efforts to prevent the greatest conflict between capital and labor that England has ever witnessed in its history.

Representatives of the four organizations comprising the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants issued a strike order tonight calling out the 100,000 members of their allied unions. The men are asked to strike "immediately." Though the membership of the unions is less than one-sixth of the entire force of railway workmen, it includes the highest skilled laborers employed by the companies, and if they all keep in line, they will be able to cripple the traffic of the entire country.

ATTACK ON ASQUITH.

At the conclusion of a conference between representatives of the men who officiate at the Board of Trade, a manifesto was issued by the committee of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, which is associated with the Society of Engineers and Firemen, the General Railway Workers' Union and the Signalmen's and Pointmen's Switchmen's Society.

It denounces Premier Asquith's statement made to the representatives of the employers at the Board of Trade this afternoon in outlining the government's position with regard to the proposed strike, as an unwarranted threat against the railway workers.

"Results from the railways point to an early and decisive victory," the leaders, however, could give no details supporting this assertion.

LLOYD-GEORGE FAILS.

The government has been successful for the first time in the strike which has been going on since last Saturday morning, and tonight David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, stepped into the breach in the House of Commons in an endeavor to delay the strike and bring about a settlement. But the spokesman of the railway employees refused to accept Lloyd-George's views and insisted on calling the strike, even before the negotiations had been definitely broken off.

Premier Asquith's proposition was to form a royal commission of three members, one from the railway companies, one from the strikers and the third, the chairman, a man well known for his impartiality. The railway companies' representatives accepted the proposition, but the employees rejected it.

CORRUPTION USED SAYS DR. WILEY

GIRL WILL AID IN PROSECUTION

Circumstances Under Which "Corn Syrup" Was Placed on Market.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Dr. Harry Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, created excitement before the House investigating committee today when he charged that three cabinet officers, sitting as a board of review, had reversed the government's ruling in a corporation case after the corporation had offered money to chemists to endorse its food product.

The case was that of the Corn Products Company, whose right to apply the name "corn syrup" to glucose had been denied by the board of chemists and the board of food and drug inspection.

Dr. Wiley testified that when the bureau and the board had agreed that the name was a misnomer, the corporation had offered money to chemists to make affidavits that "corn syrup" was a proper description.

Shortly afterward, he declared, the board of three cabinet officers, Secretary of the Treasury Coolidge, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Straus and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson set aside the decision and sustained the contention of the corporation. That ruling, he added, still stands.

The Corn Products Company, said Dr. Wiley, charged that he had been "very busy" in creating sentiment against the products and acknowledged that he had written to every state chemist whose duty it was to enforce the pure food laws. He said he did not receive one answer favorable to "corn syrup."

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—An earthquake of violence, lasting one hour and 45 minutes, was recorded by the seismograph at Georgetown University at 11:15 a.m. beginning at 5:48 o'clock. The record was found this morning. The observer estimated that the disturbance had occurred abroad, probably in Europe.

COMMITTEES YIELD TO THE PRESIDENT

New Bill Would Admit New Mexico and Arizona With New Constitutions.

RECALL ELIMINATED

Bristow, of Kansas Will Lead Fight in Senate for Original Measure.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—With complete agreement reached between the House and Senate territories committees on statehood legislation the fight over the last legislative act necessary to admit Arizona and New Mexico to the Union will open tomorrow.

Chairman Flood of the House committee will endeavor to have the House agree to the Flood and Smith resolution framed today to meet the objections of President Taft to the original Flood resolution by eliminating the judicial recall features of the Arizona constitution.

Flood is convinced that the House will adopt the new resolution in place of the one vetoed by the President.

In the Senate the fate of the new legislation is said to be problematical, though Chairman William Alden Smith of the Senate committee is confident of its passage. Senator Bristow of Kansas, is leading a movement to adopt the original Flood resolution over the President's veto, while others may raise serious objection to the part they had played in the new combination.

In vain the insurgents invoked forgotten rules of the Senate to compel the regulars to attend and cast their votes. Senatorial courtesy was tossed to the winds. The insurgents charged that the Democrats had broken faith, after having in caucus last night determined to carry through an Insurgent-Democratic program on the cotton bill which would have included the adoption of a LaFollette substitute for the part they had played in the new combination.

In vain the insurgents invoked for-

PHARMACISTS IN SESSION.

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—Today's session of the forty-ninth annual convention of the American Pharmacists association here was largely devoted to sectional meetings with papers by delegates. At the opening of the session science papers today, A. H. Clark of Chicago was chairman.

DEMOCRATIC TRICK.

They indicated the Democrats had an understanding with the Regulars to leave the Progressives in the lurch.

Neither the Regular Republicans nor the Democrats would admit such an understanding, but Senator Bristow of Kansas boldly declared he had overheard a conversation between Senator Johnstone of Alabama, a Democrat, and Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania the Regular Republican leader, that left no doubt in his mind.

The results accomplished were decisive. The Democrats found themselves in a position where, for the sake of party harmony, they had to disregard their previous arrangement with the insurgents.

This arrangement was based on the belief that the Democratic House bill first would be defeated and the Regulars and Insurgents would combine to pass a LaFollette compromise measure.

When the voting began, however, there came a sudden realization that the Democratic bill would pass without the aid of the Insurgents, enough regular Republicans having walked out of the chamber to give the Democrats a clear majority.

MEANS QUICK ADJOURNMENT.

The break in the Senate coalition, which had made tariff legislation possible, was taken to mean an early adjournment.—The Democrat, "it was said, already set about placing the insurgents but this was regarded as impossible. Without an effective working arrangement between the two elements all further attempts at tariff legislation would be useless. Senator Penrose predicted tonight that the session would terminate with the week end.

The insurgents leaders felt tonight that they had at least achieved a material victory in the adoption of the iron and steel amendment. This amendment originally drawn by Senator Cummins, was withdrawn by the long Senator today. It was taken up in its entirety by Senator Bacon, a Democrat, and rushed into the cotton bill.

As he approached Cleveland Atwood stopped from his airplane in a park on the lake shore.

"I almost went to sleep with the memory of it. In five days New York will see me hop on its tallest skyscraper and glide into the sand at Coney Island."

Atwood now has traveled 612 miles from his starting point and still has 620 miles to fly to reach New York.

His total time actually in the air since he left St. Louis last Monday is 13 hours and 15 minutes.

As he approached Cleveland Atwood soared to a height of 1500 feet.

He was scheduled to descend at Elyton Beach but was unable to pick out his landing place as he circled high above the city and came down at Edgewater Beach 12 miles east. In order not to disorient the crowd, he again took the air and landed at Euclid Beach.

Leaving Toledo at 10:29 a. m. Atwood steered along the edge of Lake Erie at an altitude varying from 50 to 100 feet, making short stops at Venice and Sandusky, for twenty miles after leaving Sandusky at 3:35 p. m. He flew over the lake, while the population of towns and villages clustered at the water's edge to watch him. He made his last stop between Toledo and Venice, covering the fifty-five miles in fifty-nine minutes including time lost in searching for a landing place.

"The fact that I am in Cleveland tonight, when I did not expect to reach here Sunday shows how far ahead of my schedule I am," said Atwood.

Senator LaFollette finally offered his bill as a substitute for the House bill and the amendment that had been added to it by Atwood to the Democrats to vote for his substitute, declaring that the insurgents were yielding a great deal but could not support the original House bill.

The LaFollette substitute received only Insurgent votes, however.

Then came the final vote on the Democratic cotton bill. Only Democrats voted for it. Republican senators either did not vote or stepped into the cloak rooms.

The bill received a favorable vote of 29.

Senator Cummins was on his feet at once, saying the role of the Senate compelling members to vote or to give their reasons for not voting, would be enforced.

Several Senators protested that this rule had never been invoked within their knowledge.

The rule is plain, said Vice President Sherman. "It is invoked if the duty of the chair to enforce it. The chair will call the names of those who did not answer."

REGULARS DODGE.

There was a sudden exit of Republicans from the chamber.

The chair knew of no rule to compel them to return.

Following very tight there came a second roll call on the passage of the bill as amended. This time there was a straight Democratic majority of 25 to 14.

Among the twenty-four Republicans who voted against the measure, that passage were:

Insurgents: Senators Borah, Idaho;

Bourne, Oregon; Bristow, Kansas;

Wadsworth, Minnesota; and Wadsworth, Wisconsin.

Taft Declares Congress Has no Data by Which to Determine Valid Tariff Schedules —Should Await Tariff Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Repudiating a two-thirds majority, Republican leaders assert that many of the insurgents who voted for the bill will not do so over the President's head.

The House and Senate disposed of the free list bill, and it was signed tonight by President Taft.

Democrats excused from voting were Senators Curtis, Kansas; Nixon, Nevada, and McLean of Connecticut, who announced they were paired with absent senators and Senators Oliver and Penrose of Pennsylvania.

THE ABSENTEES.

Republicans recorded as absent included Senators Green, North Dakota; Gruening, Colorado; Kenyon, Wyoming; Ladd, Illinois; McMillan, North Dakota; Pindexter, Washington; Smart and Sutherland, Utah; Stebbins; Wisconsin; Works, California.

Repudiating the House bill, as it was read in the House today, was followed by an outburst of Democratic cheers when Majority Leader Underwood announced that he would call up the bill tomorrow and move its passage over the veto.

The House and Senate disposed of the free list bill, and it was signed tonight by President Taft.

Democrats characterized the measure as a blend of an avowed tariff for revenue and anti-protection measure with a professed protection bill.

In explanation of his course, President Taft said the bill was not in harmony with the platform on which he was elected. Furthermore, he declared that the American people are deeply impressed with the conviction that the interests of the consuming public can be properly guarded only by revision of the tariff, one schedule at a time and then "on accurate and scientifically acquired information."

After promising that the tariff bill will be ready to report in December, the President argued that failure of the present bill should not be regarded, therefore, as taking away any chance for reduction by this Congress.

The message will be accepted as an indication that no tariff will be prepared in advance of a report of the tariff board on schedules affected by the President.

CHANCES OF VETO.

guage as fixing the proper measure of protection at the ascertained difference between the cost of production at home and that abroad and have construed the reference to the profit of American industries as intended not to add a new element to the measure stated or to exclude the cost of production abroad, the element of a manufacturer's or producer's profit but only to emphasize the importance of including in the American Standard.

FULFILLING PROMISES.

"In accordance with the promise made in the same platform, I called in extra session of the 61st Congress, at which a general revision of the tariff was made and adopted in the Payne bill.

"It was contended by those who opposed the Payne bill that the existing rates of the Dingley bill were excessive and that the rates adopted in the revision statute were not sufficiently reduced to conform to the promised measure.

"The great difficulty, however, was that there was no means available by which impartial persons could determine what, in fact, was the difference in cost of production between the products of the country and the same products abroad. The American public became deeply impressed with this conviction, that in order to secure a proper revision of the tariff in the future, exact information as to the effect of the new rates must be had and that the evil of log-rolling or a compromise between advocates of different protected industries in fixing duties could be avoided and the interest of the consuming public could be properly guarded only by revising the tariff one clause at a time.

"To help these reforms for the future, I took advantage of a clause in the Payne Tariff bill, enabling me to create a tariff board or three members and directed them to make a glossary and encyclopedic to be used in tariff making and secure information as to the comparative cost of production of suitable articles under the tariff at home and abroad."

THE TARIFF BOARD.

Here the president quoted from his message of December 7, 1910, requiring my attention to the work of the tariff board and stating the good results he believed would be obtained by a tariff revision. Today's message continued:

"A popular demand arose for the formal creation by law of a purely non-partisan tariff commission.

"In addition efforts were made to secure a change in the rules of procedure in the House and Senate with a view to preventing the consideration of tariff changes except schedule by schedule.

"The business of the country rests on protective tariff basis. The public keenly realized that a disturbance of business by a change in the tariff and threat of injury to the industries of the country ought to be avoided, and that nothing could help so much to minimize the fear of destructive changes as the known existence of a reliable source of information for legislative action. Due attention in the matter of an impartial ascertainment of facts before any new revision was evidenced by an effort to pass a tariff commission bill in the short session of the sixty-first congress in which many of both parties united.

"On the failure of this bill, I took such steps as I could to make the tariff board I had already appointed a satisfactory substitute for the proposed tariff commission.

PROGRESS OF INQUIRY.

"The Board took some months to investigate the methods pursued in other countries in procuring information on tariff subjects and to organize its force. In October, 1910, its work of investigating began with a force of forty that has now increased to eighty. In addition to the 'glossary' which is near completed and other work connected with furnishing information in connection with the enforcement of the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne bill, and in respect to the Canadian reciprocity clause. Its attention has been especially attracted to comparative costs under schedule K wool and woollens under schedule M (paper and pup) and under schedule L (cotton manufacturers). The report on schedule M (pulp and paper) has already been sent to congress and the reports on wool and cotton will be submitted to congress in December. I have also directed an investigation into the metal and leather schedules, the results of which, it is hoped, will be submitted to congress at its first regular session in time to present their consideration and legislative action, if necessary."

The President, after quoting from a report of the tariff commission commanding the work of the tariff board continues:

"I have thus reviewed the history of the movement for the establishment of a tariff commission or board in order to show that the real advance and reform in tariff-making are to be found in the acquiring of accurate and impartial information as to the effect of the proposed tariff changes under such schedule, as they are adopted, and further to show that if delay in the passage of a bill to amend schedule K can be had until December, Congress will then be in possession of a full and satisfactory report upon the whole schedule."

WOOL QUESTION COMPLICATED.

"This brings me to the consideration of the terms of the bill presented for my approval. Schedule K is the most complicated section in the tariff. It classifies raw wool with different rates for different classes. It affords the manufacturer what is called a compensatory duty to make up for the increased price of the raw material he uses in the manufacture of the product.

"This brings me to the consideration of the terms of the bill presented for my approval. Schedule K is the most complicated section in the tariff. It classifies raw wool with different rates for different classes. It affords the manufacturer what is called a compensatory duty to make up for the increased price of the raw material he uses in the manufacture of the product.

The President, after quoting from a report of the tariff commission commanding the work of the tariff board continues:

"I have thus reviewed the history of the movement for the establishment of a tariff commission or board in order to show that the real advance and reform in tariff-making are to be found in the acquiring of accurate and impartial information as to the effect of the proposed tariff changes under such schedule, as they are adopted, and further to show that if delay in the passage of a bill to amend schedule K can be had until December, Congress will then be in possession of a full and satisfactory report upon the whole schedule."

IS FOUND SENSELESS S. P. TRAIN HORRIBLY BY SIDE OF TRACK MANGLES UNKNOWN MAN

Unknown Colored Man at Dismembered Body Found Tulare County Hospital on Track; Identification With Skull Broken. Impossible.

TULARE CITY, Aug. 17.—Goring, the engineer of the Southern Pacific, found the body of a colored man lying near the Southern Pacific tracks on the west side nearly in front of the road master's office. He was unconscious, and experiments indicated that he had been injured by a train. Dr. Pfiffer was notified and the man was removed to the city jail.

The superficial examination did not determine positively that the skull was fractured, but the symptoms indicated such as one side of the body was paralyzed. There were no abrasions and the only indication of blood was from the nostrils and the mouth.

None of the colored men in this city knew the man nor had they ever seen him before. It is presumed that he was either trying to get off a train, or else to board one, and slipped and fell. It can only be surmised how long the unfortunate man there before he was found, or what train did the damage. A collection was taken up among the colored men of this city and the victim was taken to the county hospital for treatment.

At the hospital a slip of paper was found in one of his pockets with the name of Davis written on it. Whether this was his name or not is unknown. He was found on fairly good soft of clothes and clean underwear. In his pocket were found two coins and a pocket knife. He was unconscious when those who removed him left the hospital, and it is thought he will not recover.

PUBLIC READING ROOM FOR COALINGA PLAN

Miss McCardle Advocates It as Adjunct to Branch Library There.

COALINGA, Aug. 17.—County Librarian Sarah McCardle, on a trip of inspection to the local branch libraries today, advocated the establishing of a public reading room in which the branch library should be placed, with a permanent custodian, who should devote her entire time to looking after the books. It is understood that the matter is soon to be taken up by Miss McCardle with the Ladles' Improvement club of this city, and ask them to take steps for the securing of such a room. In case the room were secured the county would pay a part of the expense while the rest of it would have to come through public subscription or some other form of public contribution in Coalinga.

The matter will also probably be taken up by the Coalinga Chamber of Commerce at its next regular meeting.

The recent shipment of books sent from Fresno is now being arranged for the public and is the best the library here has had. The branch is to be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

KINGSFORD, Aug. 17.—Early this morning the bodies of mangled remains of a man were found on the Southern Pacific tracks by a train walking the ties. He lay in front of the conductor's and ticketmaster's office. He was unconscious, and experiments indicated that he had been injured by a train. Dr. Pfiffer was notified and the man was removed to the city jail.

An examination of the body showed that it was half-bald. In a San Francisco clothing store, and contained the date of October 3, 1910, prominently the date of sale. It was of blue serge. A cotton blue shirt was worn by the man, a gray hat, and he had a red handkerchief. His shoes were covered of good quality. Underwear, however, found nothing, being three shirts, scattered along the track, also parts of a pocket knife, which had been pretty badly cracked to pieces. In his pockets were found only some matches and a little tobacco and a sporting page of a Los Angeles paper. He was probably of medium build and inclined to be a little heavy.

The greatest accepted theory here is that the man tried to get on the northbound train No. 86, which stopped here last night at 5:30 p. m. No. 25, goes. It is thought that the man was asleep on a pile of ties near the track, and when he noticed that the train had stopped, decided to get back on it, and in his attempt to get onto the train missed his footing and fell under the train. He appeared to be a man about 30 years old.

Deputy Coroner Stephens held the inquest later in the day, but nothing new was learned and he duly rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Charles Carpenter will resume his duties as rural carrier after a two week's vacation, during which time William Carpenter, his son, will continue the work of the office of the trustees in declaring the election last by the salaried forces and Visalia city territory set aside and a second victory proclaimed.

In the election held on July 15th there were 1025 ballots deposited in the box. Nine were thrown out, leaving 1016 actually counted. Of these 1016, 511 were for the salaried and 505 against, a plurality for the salaried of 6. The Wyler law expressly states, however, that the election is lost unless a majority of the votes "cast" is polled. The question then arises upon the meaning of the word "cast." The election board and trustees declare that 1025 was the vote cast and that 511 was therefore not a majority.

It is declared that the two proceedings—the present one having brought in by L. A. Ballinger on plaintiff and the former action by J. C. McPherson—have the complexion one with the other, tend, that of having the action of the trustees in declaring the election last by the salaried forces and Visalia city territory set aside and a second victory proclaimed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sturtevant and family left this morning for Berkeley, Calif., to spend a few weeks. They are going to stay at the University.

ONE YEAR

How soon we forget! Here it takes an editorial from the Los Angeles Express to remind us that the day before yesterday, August 16, was the anniversary of the primary election which made Hiram Johnson Republican candidate for governor of California. It is the most important anniversary in the modern history of California, and yet even the Republicans had overlooked it.

WOOL TARIFF VETO

One year! It seems an age ago. In fact, measured by results, it is; for it is a new age that day ushered in. Two years ago it is almost as far back in the political dark ages as forty years ago. The same powers that usurped the throne forty years ago still rule us two years ago. The same pessimism, which for forty years had regarded the situation as helpless, still reigned two years ago. But one year ago the fight had not only been made, but won. And now, after one year, the new regime is not merely victorious, but justified. Its place in history is fixed already, and the change it has made in the life of California is irreversible. There is no year, since the year that made California an American state, so fraught with consequences, far-reaching and permanent.

That vote, one year ago, would forever rule the party that had held us in thrall a whole generation. It established forever a new standard of public service and popular rule. It was the decisive step in the inauguration of the administration which has since undone abuses then so long established that they were thought grounded in the very laws of nature. It nominated, with Johnson, the legislature which has since passed and submitted to the people for passage the most comprehensive body of progressive legislation ever accomplished in a single session by an American legislature. It chose the delegates to the convention which restored the government of the dominant party in California to its members, and thus ejected the old machine from its central stronghold. In fact, it was the most significant day this generation of Californians has seen.

And we forgot to observe its anniversary!

WINE EDUCATION

A large meeting of grape growers and wine makers of Santa Clara county was held Wednesday at which it was decided to raise funds for an "educational campaign." The dispatch adds that "this action was taken as the result of the active efforts being made by many to classify this industry with the saloon interests."

If this is the purpose of the campaign and the fund, it will be an effort well put forth. The wine industry does not belong with the saloon interests, and it does not need to share the vices of that business unless it desires. The wine business is older than Noah. The American saloon has existed scarcely more than one generation and it is hardly likely to outlast another. To be a thing so permanent to a thing so ephemeral is too foolish a form of suicide for rational men to undertake. The effort to tie the wine industry to the saloons is made on one side by the saloons and the distilleries and breweries which own them, and on the other hand by the radical temperance advocates, whose objection is not to the saloons, but to drinking. Both these classes are the enemies of the wine industry, but the forces of that industry ought not to allow themselves to be stamped by one enemy into impaling themselves on the bayonets of the other. If the wine men wish to conduct a campaign of defense, the best and worst way to do it would be to allow the whiskey interests to use them as entrapments in a saloon fight which does not concern them. The intelligent course is a campaign of education against just this identification with the saloons.

Those persons whose objection is to drink, because it is drink, are of course opposed to wine quite as much as to other drinks. Wine is an alcoholic drink, and you can get drunk on it—though in fact, men who get drunk do not often choose wine to do it with. There are persons connected prominently with the Anti-Saloon League whose personal attitude is just this. They are after drink, as such, and they include wine and all other drinks in the same category. But the personal views of these men must not be confused with the widespread popular movement against saloons. That movement is directed against the saloon as a pernicious social institution, more than against the things sold in it as injurious personal beverages. Of course, the movement includes many persons whose objection is both to the drink and to the institution. But it includes still more whose objection is to the institution. Drink, they regard as a private question, subject to the rule of personal liberty, but the saloon they regard as a public question, subject to the rule of social welfare. It is the inclusion of this second class in the movement which above gives it its formidable character. The organized leaders of the Anti-Saloon League may personally belong to the first class, but they can not lead their forces with success any further than the second class will follow them. And this second class will not follow them in a crusade against the wine industry.

BEAT THE HIRED LIAR

The "insurgent" faction of the "Eagles" is concentrating forces on an effort to defeat Frank E. Herling, of Indiana, for president of the order. The issue is state's rights. It is sincerely to be hoped that the effort will succeed, particularly as the convention is being held in California. For California unfortunately knows Frank Herling, and the memory of him is not sweet. Herling's only California record is that of a hired blatherskite, who comes into this state to lie about Hiram Johnson, now governor of California. In consideration of that record as a knucker, he was again hired by the boasters who went to Washington on behalf of the World's Fair, to deliver the Eagles' vote of the country to his new employer, and he boasts that he was able to do so. One best information is that the boast is false, and at any rate it is scarcely one which the Eagle will take as a compliment. And now having served California first as a hired liar, and the Eagles second as a hired deliverer of their votes, Frank Herling asks the Eagles to honor him, in California, with their national presidency. It is the Eagle's business, of course, and they will do as they please about it. But here is a case in which insurgents California watch with apprehension the efforts of the insurgent Eagles.

BOOSTING THE CENSUS UP TO 200,000,000

Fervid After-dinner Orators Do Not Cling to Demutable Figures.

"There are," said the orator of the evening at the New England Society banquet, "15,000,000 persons of New England ancestry living in other parts of the Union than the six New England states."

That makes 15,000,000.

"There are," said a recent visitor from Dublin, a professor in Trinity College and one of the best known British Oriental scholars, "20,000,000 persons of Irish ancestry in the United States."

That makes 35,000,000.

A Leland Stanford University professor says, in a recent book that persons of pure Teutonic blood in this country—those of German, Scandinavian, Dutch, Austrian, German-Swiss, Flemish ancestry—number 45,000,000.

That makes 82,000,000.

A Polish orator in Cleveland quotes and holds there were 26,000,000 Poles in America.

That makes 102,000,000.

Still we have not yet counted in the New Englanders who live in New England, the people of English ancestry elsewhere, those of Scotch or Welsh ancestry, the persons of French ancestry, the Italians, Negroes, Indians, Mexicans, Portuguese, Hungarians, Bohemians, Slovaks, Slovaks, Lithuanians, Greeks, Serbs, Bulgarians, Syrians, Chinese, Japanese, Roumanians, Russians.

"She's whining," said Beuss, "and for some reason that tall fellow there, the leader—parboil, now where have I seen him before? Look, Nix."

The girl had thrown back her head with a laugh, an odd little laugh like a child half pleased with itself, half frightened.

"Bole mot!" she cried, "my God—It's cheetah!"

For a moment all five of them seemed transfixed. Nobody moved, nobody spoke; they all stood staring down at the chess-board.

"That's a funny thing," said Beuss softly. "She's won sure enough, but she's pale as death! I don't understand this ghastly strain. Why don't they congratulate her?" From "The Chess Players," by Olive M. Briggs, in the August Scribner (Fiction Number).

If we were to add to the previous total the estimates of the numbers of these nationalities given offhand by gentlemen speaking fervently at banquets or expressing themselves on equally important but less comfortable occasions, our total population would easily foot up 200,000,000. In reality, however, it escapes figure by a considerable number.

These after-dinner estimates, rather than the smaller figures of the census, pass current to the national mind. We are more an American nation than most citizens imagine. No single ethnic element, except the native stock, is nearly so large as is popularly supposed. This native stock is itself a composite. Rare, indeed, is the person of native stock who has not more than one strain in his ancestry.

What has happened before will happen again. Our present population will mix and remix and a new composite native American will appear.—From the Chicago News.

NO CURE YET FOUND OF INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Dr. Simon Flexner Says He Looks for Recurrence of This Disease.

At a recent conference of health officials of the state, Dr. Simon Flexner, of New York, said no treatment which can be regarded as specific or even effective has been found in dealing with the problem of infantile paralysis. He also said:

"Indications already seem unmistakable and point to a recurrence of the disease this year. It is easily transmitted from animals to man, and is more fatal in animals than in man. The attack, however light, appears to establish an immunity against a second attack. It is very important to determine whether or not animals might suffer primarily from this disease. Simian monkeys suffer the disease, could be transmitted to monkeys, and the true character of the disease demonstrated."

It is possible that this disease may be transmitted by insects. The fly and the mosquito are the two insects which would be most naturally suspected of being the carriers of this infection. Fleas fed on the spinal cord of a monkey that had died of the disease have been known to be able to transmit the same disease to other monkeys.

The period of incubation appears to be from three to thirty-three days. Four weeks is supposed to be the period of infectiousness of the disease, after which it is thought that infection ceases from the case.

The source of infection is the germs of this disease, to be spread through the upper air passage, especially the nose. It would also appear that the most probable means of exit of this germ is through the nose and throat. It is therefore very important that the discharges from the nose and throat of cases suffering from infantile paralysis be properly destroyed."—Albany Dispatch to the New York World.

ADMIRAL TOGO ILL AT BOSTON

BOSTON, Aug. 17.—An attack of acute indigestion, said by his attendants to be slight, caused the cancellation of the program of entertainment in honor of Admiral Togo, the Japanese naval officer, to the proposed to the admiral to Provincetown to receive the courtesies of the United States fleet at that port, was abandoned.

The admiral became ill after he had retired last night. The Japanese party arrived from New York late, and it was midnight before Admiral Togo made his way to his room after the reception at the railroad station and hotel. Captain Tompkins M. Potts, of the Navy Department said the admiral was in no dangerous condition and that he considered the attack due to the strenuous program which the visitors had been carrying out in the last few days. No doctor was called.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The funeral of St. Croix Johnson, who like Wm. R. Biggs was killed by a fall from an airplane last Tuesday, was held today. Several of his late companions at the aviation meet were present.

A momentary lapse of flowers appeared among the floral tributes. The body will be embalmed.

Hughes' funeral will be held at Pittsburg, his home.

Early indications today were that this afternoon's program might be hampered by winds such as rendered the sport extra hazardous yesterday.

BICYCLIST IMPALED ON A WAGON SHAFT

PASADENA, Aug. 17.—J. Honda, a bicyclist, was impaled upon the shaft of a milk wagon with which he collided at Sierra Madre today and was brought to a hospital in this city with a piece of the highway pole still protruding from his right breast.

After riding with great speed down a mountain trail which led into Sierra Madre, Honda suddenly turned into a street along which the milk wagon was being rapidly driven. The bicyclist was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision and the shaft was driven into his breast.

Dr. Mooney White was summoned, and under his directions the shaft was withdrawn from Honda's breast, but was torn from the longer portion that had attached to the wagon. Then he was hurried here, where after the removal of the wood, it was announced that the injured man might live.

TAKING A "DARE"

FROM A CHILD

When a Learned Literateur of Forty-five Plays

Mumblety Peg.

"As I went up to Salt Lake I met a little rattle-snake. He'd eat so much of jelly cake, I made his little belly ache."

When it was thus selected, automatically and peacefully, Old Hundred struck a line in the road, parallel to the path. It put its duck on the rock, and the rest started to pitch. Suddenly a line demon snatched me, a smiling bystander. "Ho!" he called, "Old Centaur isn't playin'."

"Quiltin' quilter, quilter," tottered Old Hundred.

I started to make some remark about the self-congratulations of a learned amateur of forty-five, but my speech was drowned in a shrill howl from the buzz saw. I quickly accepted the inevitable, and hunted myself out a duck.

After ten minutes of madly dashing back to the line pursued by those supernaturally active young chaps, after stooping again and again to pick up my duck, after dodging flying stones and sometimes not succeeding, I was quite ready to quit. Old Hundred flushed and perspiring, was playing as if his life depended on it, when he was tagged. He took his turn as it without a murmur. He was one of the kids, and they knew it. But finally he, too, left the park in his honor. We left the boys still playing, quite careless of whether we went or stayed. We were dusty and hot; our blouses were scratches and grimed. "All!" said Old Hundred, looking back. "We accomplished something today, and had a good time doing it! The ungrateful little savages they might have said good-bye."

"Yet you wouldn't pull up the mattock for me," I said.

"My dear fellow," he replied, "that's quite different. To take a dare from a man is childish. Not to take a dare from a child is unmanning."—From "Mumblety-Peg and Middle-Age," by Walter Pritchard Eaton, in the August Scribner (Fiction Number).

"She's whining," said Beuss, "and for some reason that tall fellow there, the leader—parboil, now where have I seen him before? Look, Nix."

The girl had thrown back her head with a laugh, an odd little laugh like a child half pleased with itself, half frightened.

"Bole mot!" she cried, "my God—It's cheetah!"

For a moment all five of them seemed transfixed. Nobody moved, nobody spoke; they all stood staring down at the chess-board.

"That's a funny thing," said Beuss softly. "She's won sure enough, but she's pale as death! I don't understand this ghastly strain. Why don't they congratulate her?" From "The Chess Players," by Olive M. Briggs, in the August Scribner (Fiction Number).

If we were to add to the previous total the estimates of the numbers of these nationalities given offhand by gentlemen speaking fervently at banquets or expressing themselves on equally important but less comfortable occasions, our total population would easily foot up 200,000,000. In reality, however, it escapes figure by a considerable number.

These after-dinner estimates, rather than the smaller figures of the census, pass current to the national mind. We are more an American nation than most citizens imagine. No single ethnic element, except the native stock, is nearly so large as is popularly supposed. This native stock is itself a composite. Rare, indeed, is the person of native stock who has not more than one strain in his ancestry.

What has happened before will happen again. Our present population will mix and remix and a new composite native American will appear.—From the Chicago News.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

This morning the pressure has fallen over the plateau and the map is a typical one of the conditions which have given California moderate temperatures this month. The low pressure area prominent over the San Joaquin valley yesterday has passed northeastward with little attendant precipitation. Very little rain fell over the United States during the past 24 hours. Temperatures along the Pacific coast have risen slightly since yesterday morning. A minimum of 54 degrees was reported from Phoenix last night with 50 degrees at Yuma. Temperatures east of the Rocky mountains are generally somewhat above normal.

The weather will prevail in Fresno and vicinity tonight and Friday without much change in temperature.

Accordingly it is believed that she who offers her way to a river boat this morning to return to San Francisco had stopped at the post office to see if there was any mail for her when discovered by her brother.

Hall took his sister to a local hotel for a few moments, after which he hurried her out of town as quickly as possible.

BERKELEY, Calif., Aug. 17.—Miss Lois Hall, the missing Berkeley girl, was located by her brother, William Hall, and Detective Wood in the local post office this morning. The missing girl, for whom the relatives and detectives of the Bay cities have been making a country-wide search for a whole week past, has been found in Sacramento.

During the early part of this week resulted in disagreements and while the California boy did not know the judge said that on the same evidence Abram Ruef had been convicted and was now in the penitentiary and that Supervisor M. W. Coffey had also been convicted. On the strength of these convictions, the Judge said he was influenced to hope for a trial of the cases on their merits.

In speaking of the disappearance of Gallagher, the Judge said:

"I believe that Gallagher is running away under some sort of arrangement." He did not explain himself further than this.

Of the defendants, only McMillan and Abbott were in court, accompanied by their attorneys, Stanley Moore, Luther Brown and Lewis Byington. The defendants against the four defendants were returned in May, 1905.

The court did not act on the two cases which were presented by Attorney John J. Barrett until the United Railroad cases had been disposed of.

After an absence from the city for two months, Mike O'Keefe returned two days ago and yesterday afternoon was lodged in jail on the usual charge of drunkenness. Mike will be brought before Acting Police Judge Smith this morning.

Sam Fisher, who recently enlisted in the army, appeared before Acting Police Judge Smith yesterday on a charge of drunkenness but as the recruiting officer informed the magistrate that Fisher had no regular date, he was sent to the Presidio if released last night.

SOCIETY

Miss Elizabeth M. Wells of Fresno today announces her engagement to Mr. William K. Kendrick of Fowler. The announcement comes as a surprise to many of their friends. Miss Wells is to be one of the early autumn brides, as the wedding is to occur on October 20 or the early part of November.

The bride-to-be is a dainty beauty of charming manner. Her combination of vivacity and brightness of conversation makes her one of the best liked girls of Fresno. She is a sister of Frank E. Wells, a well known man.

Mr. Kendrick, who is with the Valley Lumber Company, is a young business man of high integrity and ability. He formerly lived in Fresno, and is known to many people here. His parents are in Portland.

A town party was given last night by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parrish at their home on D street. An extensive program was rendered, including many clever readings and songs. Refreshments were served. A large number of persons accepted Mr. and Mrs. Parrish's hospitality.

Wahlema Young in the Chronicle tells the following story on Mandie Herr:

Mandie Lillian Herr, who had a most successful tour in Mendocino last season, has been summering with her mother at Tahoe. Between Ruckerington the blouse lake for trout and dancing in the evening, the jolly company had been trouting and the surrounding country driving in their auto and boat had what she calls "all good time."

And she started out one day a week, or so ago, to go to Buca. Back he down the main line from Truckee. It is very easy to find when you are traveling by rail; but when you are hunting out your own roads in an auto, it presents certain difficulties—an auto horn.

She made one circle out from Truckee on a traction road, and when she finally saw that this road was bringing her back to Truckee, she turned back and branched off. This also brought her back to Truckee. "What is this Buca?" that I cannot find?"—she monopolized "Why is this Buca?"—I will find it."

There was determination in her tone. Never in the fiery señorita in "The Sultan of Sulu" had she looked or acted more determinedly.

"I will find it! I will start out again!"

She started out again yet in another direction. And reaching a fork in this new road, she looked for some "oldest inhabitant" to enlighten her. One came strutting up directly.

"Can you tell me how to get to Buca?" she asked.

"Sure," he said. "You go down that road for a ways and then you come to a tree and you branch off."

FIND "LOST" MINE IN THE SIERRAS

HANFORD, Aug. 17.—The search for gold mine at the headquarters of the Tees River, Tulare county, which was started yesterday by an Indian and his son, has been discontinued according to Frank E. Plaza and John Chidley, who are managing today, the men they have found and located the mine. It is believed the secret of the location of the mine has been kept by the Indians for years, and until the present Indians held Chidley's father in a cage to find the gold. The value of the mine cannot be determined as yet, though specimens brought in show that the quartz is gold bearing, to some extent at least.

"Say," spoke Miss Bertha in her Broadway manner, "the mint of steel over her lips, "You're not kidding me, are you?"

"Uh-huh," answered the oldest Indian.

"Say, You're not kidding me, are you?" That is really the road to success.

Sure, it must be, he advised cheerfully. "Five hundred hundred of people that way and not out in the hills even come back."

Mrs. C. O. Van Valkenburg yesterday afternoon reluctantly informed a score of intimate friends in honor of Mrs. C. O. Van Valkenburg, Jr., of Covington and Mrs. Carrie Asp of that city. Mrs. Asp, who is an artist with studio in Fresno, will leave for San Francisco the first of the week to spend some time among picture folk there. The Van Valkenburgs, Jrs., are spending a few days here with Mr. Van Valkenburg's parents.

Mrs. Minnie Beattie and children of Sonoma are visiting Mrs. Mary Holtzinger who is visiting Mrs. Mary Holtzinger at 824 S street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Knight have returned from Long Beach.

A very pleasant birthday party was given to Miss Olympia and Jessie Summers, on Wednesday afternoon, at their home on 12th. Fresno Avenue. Music and games passed the time most enjoyable and refreshments were served. Miss Olympia Summers and Miss Mary Holtzinger played several beautiful pieces. Thus far, the dinner was served. Miss Dorothy Whitter, Miss Mary Kilian, Miss Sadie Kilian, Miss Lydia Fisher, Miss Bertha Wolf, Miss Emily Fisher, Miss Pauline Kerner, Miss Dorothy Meier, Master Guy Dadey, Master Fred Gandy, Master Vincent Dreyer, Master Samson Kerner, Master Teddy Starkel, Master Robert Carlisle.

Mrs. Fred Littlefield leaves this morning for San Rafael and other points about the bay. She expects to be away three weeks.

A game for which more than a score of young men had to remove their coats, and exhibit themselves doing hard labor for the amusement of the rest of the audience was easily the funniest thing from the standpoint of the spectators at the gymnasium social given at the Y. M. C. A. last night. The men had to run twenty yards, on all fours across a canvas floor following a trained gymnastic leader. The results were ludicrous and produced an end of laughter. Some of the men gave out before the goal was reached, and others becoming entangled in the new sort of locomotion collided and fell in a heap.

The girls' basketball game was more successful. One team easily won over the other by a score of 12 to 6.

The game of volley ball in which all participated was interesting, the room being well filled and the competition for the ball lively. Lemontine was served.

Next Thursday night the Y. M. C. A. club room will be the scene of a "funhouse party." The only hint as to the nature of this party was the announcement that "nonsensical" clothes would be at a premium.

Miss Marjorie Harris, who attended the University of California last year, will leave for Berkeley this morning to visit at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house. She will probably remain in Berkeley for a couple of weeks, returning to Fresno at the end of that time. She will not attend school this year, but contemplates spending the winter here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Harris.

The Swastika birthday club met with Mrs. Clarence H. Roberts at her home, 334 Elsie street, Thursday afternoon, and elected officers for the next year. The new officers are: President, Mrs. C. H. Roberts; vice president, Mrs. E. F. Otto; secretary, Mrs. W. C. Dow; treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Allen; Swastika, Mrs. Jack McFarlane.

A brief literary and musical program was given, many delightful numbers being produced by the members. Delightful refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be held at 1423 Angus street. Those present were Mrs. C. H. Roberts, Mrs. C. F. Otto, Mrs. C. E. Pugh, Mrs. Jack McFarlane, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Daniel Blodgett, Mrs. W. C. Dow, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. L. A. Allen, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. V. W. Frederick, Mrs. C. A. Purdon, Mrs. L. A. Greene, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. Mary Roberts.

Mrs. Belle Parsons Ockenden, is spending a week here as the guest of Mrs. Ida Miles. She will be remembered as a popular teacher of education and physical culture here a few years ago. She now holds a good position in Detroit. She had many pupils while there.

Mrs. T. R. Clark of Clevis is visiting this week with Mrs. B. Mathewson.

Miss Evelyn Loggins will return Monday from a trip of two weeks taking in the Grand Canyon, Los Angeles and the Southern beaches. She will return by the way of San Francisco, taking an excursion steamer up the coast.

As the summer progresses, the popularity of swimming parties does not wane. The latest of these jolly affairs was held last night at the Fresno Hotel, when a merry party from "The Palms" had a splash. Those in the party were: Mrs. M. E. Tilton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smart and sons, Jay and Edgar, Mrs. Camp, Misses Katherine Camp, Edith Wilson, Lillian Frame, June and Estella Gray, Gladys Holmby, Jewel Clark, Harriet Coler, Mrs. G. T. Whitteman, J. L. Carter, R. K. Morey, H. L. Tilton, J. H. Hunt, Clarence Howard, Charles Jones, Charles Fogelstrom, Col. Huntley, Walter Sheehan, H. S. Whitbeck, Charles Shawalter, H. S. Weaver, Martin Regensburger, Bernard Cascholt and E. B. Tilton.

Miss Gertrude Drew will leave Wednesday for Berkeley, where she will visit for a few weeks at the Delta Gamma sorority house. Miss Drew and her mother, Mrs. A. M. Drew, spent the summer in Berkeley, where Miss Drew attended the summer school. She will go to Palo Alto in a few weeks to take up teaching at Manzanita Hall.

Miss Dorothy Miller and Mrs. Raphael Lorenz with Joyce Bonham for San Francisco and Berkeley, where they will visit for a week. Dr. W. P. Miller, and daughter, Miss Dorothy Miller, will go to San Francisco Sunday for a brief visit.

SAN JACINTO FOREST "MUST BE STRONG FIRES EXTINGUISHED TO BE RESPECTED"

Not All the Men Engaged in Admiral Beresford Speaks counted for.

HANING, Calif., Aug. 17.—Favorable weather conditions enabled the weary rangers and veterans who have been fighting the forest fires in the San Jacinto mountains to set Saturday to conquer the flames once and for all. Rangers returned here yesterday from the word that all the fires were out, and that the fire-fighting forces have been reduced to fifty men who will watch the smoldering ash to prevent any new outbreaks.

The fire last night destroyed much valuable government timber on the north slope of San Jacinto Peak, but the flames, overcome by the strong wind of the Indians, did not reach the burning reservation.

Not all of the men engaged in the fire fighting have yet been accounted for, but none is believed to have been lost.

LOOSE CARS KILL HORSE AT CROSSING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—With a view of stimulating trade in Navajo blankets, the Indian office is seeking information of the Navajo Indians of Arizona and Mexico. Letters have been addressed to traders in those territories, as well as the Indian Superintendents, asking data on the number of blankets sold, the number of Indians engaged in the work, whether the weaving is done entirely by the men for women, and what wool and bought wool dyes are used.

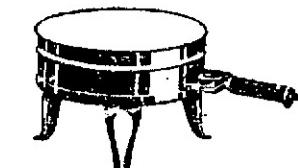

The Indian office is contemplating changing the breed of sheep raised by these Indians, and wants a strain which will produce wool suitable for the blankets.

The data sought may guide in the selection of the breed.

SAVED FROM THE CULLOWES. They stood on the McNamara Ranch, Campion, Friday, 8 p.m.

LEMOUCHE, Aug. 17.—Entertained with his family Saturday on a switchback Southern Pacific railroad train that blocked his way at the Holman street crossing here, Dick Harting, of Concord, jumped from his rig just in time to escape loss of car, which had made a flying switch, and which crashed into the vehicle, wrecking it and killing one of the horses. While the making of "flying switch" is against the city ordinance, the Holman street crossing has never been officially opened.

Cook On An Electric Stove

IT is a pleasure to cook on an electric stove. It is so absolutely free from dirt that neither hands nor clothing are soiled. There is no odor, no smoke, no soot, no ashes. The stove is so small that it can be put on the table. The temperature can be regulated accurately.

These stoves are not expensive to operate. About 1-4 of one cent an hour will cover the cost. The initial expense—the cost of the stove—is also light, $2.50 will buy a stove. It will last practically forever, as the construction is the best and the materials are first class.

California Oil Field News

UNIVERSAL'S GUSHER IS OUST CLAIM JUMPERS
7,000 BARREL WELL
OF FINE OIL

Test Shows High Per Cent of Both Gasoline and Distillate.

Work in Field Now Being Rushed Hard Because of Big Showings.

(SPECIAL to the Republican)

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17.—The Universal Oil Company's gusher in section 22-26-21, in the Lost Hills in Kern County, which was allowed to flow Sunday after the company's new 55,000 barrels storage tank showed about a 7,000 barrel well. While this is very gratifying to the well is not yet fully developed, the Universal officials are more pleased at the outcome of the analysis made in testing the quality of oil produced. It was roughly estimated that the oil is about 28 gravity but the analysis shows 21 percent gasoline and 18 percent distillate, making a very high grade refining oil.

The other two wells of this company on section 22 are now in oil with every indication that both wells equal the first gusher in quantity and quality of production.

The Universal now has fourteen strings of tools operating in the Lost Hills field, over a territory several miles long by about two miles wide and the strata gone through have shown this field to be one of the best in the state. The high gravity of oil produced, and the shallow depth at which it is obtained make it one of the most profitable fields known.

With the Universal, the Associated and the Standard running work in every way and moving tools and rigs from other fields, in some instances to hasten development, the last doubt as to the future of this new field is believed to be answered.

If you knew the real value of Chamberlain's Liniment for lame back, soreness of the muscles, sprains and rheumatic pains, you would never wish to be without it. For sale by all dealers.

Having promised to tell you more about the reasons for the change of our climate I have started my investigating genius and learned that Sir Oliver and Chas. Chambers were both wrong.

By comparing I have discovered a great similarity between our present climate and the article they have been selling around Los Angeles. Some people will tell you it is impossible to move a climate from one locality to another, but while is not one of them. These Los Angeles people are liable to do most anything. Moving a climate or kicking against a reduction of traffic rates against a neighboring city is child's play for them. I have discovered that Los Angeles capitalists have been buying large tracts of Fresno county land; which they are subdividing into 20 and 40 acre lots. For advertisement purposes they have moved their climate to Fresno, and by next year you will find Los Angeles land speculators selling Fresno county climate, giving every purchaser a 20 acre lot free. This may be a surprise to you, but you will find still greater surprises when in need of a good suit to call on the Most Reliable Clothier.

PULVADERO WELL HAS HOPEFUL INDICATIONS

Quarter Section Located on McKittrick Front to Be Drilled.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17.—Claim jumpers who took possession of the southeast quarter of section 29-22 on the McKittrick front, last Saturday night, were ousted yesterday by W. T. Davis and five associates. The matter was settled with little trouble and Davis is now in possession of the land. The jumpers' cabin has been moved off the section and rapid preparations are being made for the erection of a drilling rig.

The land was recently leased to Ben A. Haynes under a drilling contract and the work will be started.

Among the factors of the property are J. M. Johnson, S. A. Johnson, J. A. McMurtry, Pat O'Brien, and Frank Collins, all of this city.

VACATIONS DELAY AGENCY MEETING

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17.—Delay in calling the Agency directors together to consider a storage plan is due to the length of time it is taking to get the necessary signatures to the resolution regarding the number of directors. No opposition to this resolution has developed, but many of the oil men are away on their vacations, and the correspondence necessary to secure their consent and signatures to the resolution requires time. The next meeting of the executive committee will be held next Wednesday, and at that time the date of the directors' meeting probably will be set.

AUTO'S FRONT FENDER PINS HIM TO BENCH

James Rohlic Badly Injured
at Work in Porterville Garage.

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 17.—James Rohlic, of the firm of Rohlic Bros., proprietors of an Oak street garage, was badly injured in the machine shop of the establishment last evening when he was being run into the garage door into him at full speed and pinned him against a bench at which he was sitting.

Bert Sutherland, a Mill street merchant, was running his car over the west pit in the garage to have some work done on the car. Directly in front of the pit and not more than ten feet from it, Rohlic was seated at a low bench at work on a magneto. Sutherland was running the car on the first speed as slowly as possible in order to idle it up over the pit, and when he threw out the clutch and reached for the gear-shift lever, his foot slipped from the clutch pedal, allowing the clutch to ride in with a jerk and throwing the engine in at full power ahead.

Rohlic's brother, Lucien, was standing beside the car motioning to Sutherland, assisting him to line the wheels and as the car darted ahead of the boy his weight on the front of the car in a vain endeavor to turn it from its path. He called to his brother, but not in time. Rohlic just had time to rise when the weight of the big touring car caught him and pinned him again if he were in a huge vice to the side of the bench.

Some idea of the force of the blow may be gained by the fact that the left hand lamp bracket on the car was bent back flush with the surface to which it is fastened and the heavy brass lamp was crushed like an eggshell. One end of a 2x4 used as a brace and which projected a little beyond the line of the fence was fairly buried in the flesh of his right thigh, making a horrible bruise, the entire weight of the car pinning him by the front fender to the heavy timbers behind him. As rapidly as possible the car was run back and Rohlic fell to the floor. He was taken home in a car and medical assistance secured. An examination showed that to Rohlic's splendid physique no bones were broken, but his bruises will keep him in bed for weeks.

GUARANTY CONTRACTS LET ABOUT SEPTEMBER

Gets Same Sands as No. 1
Mohawk, But at Less Depth.

COALINGA, Aug. 17.—The Pulvadero Oil Company, section 2, 21-16, is further south than any other of the companies drilling on the east side of the anticline. Well No. 1 is 2,600 feet deep, 40 inch casing. The formation, from 13,000 feet to 2,400 feet, was very dark shale, interbedded with four separate layers of sand and containing some thin sandstone. The oil sand has been passed through. The Mohawk well No. 1 entered the oil sand at 3,500 feet and five sands were cut before reaching the pay sand. The sand that the Mohawk found at 3,500 feet appears to be the same that the Pulvadero got at 1,600 feet at least the sand is the same in appearance. In the Pulvadero there has been 14 feet of black shale between the sands. A good gas zone and other encouraging indications are here present.

The Products Transportation Company will concentrate its office business at San Luis Obispo. The business of the field will be reported daily by the man in charge of the station, by telephone to the main office, as the Bakerville business is now done. Since the commencement of the pipe line some two years ago, the company has maintained an office in the "Union Oil Company's building on Front Street with E. L. Gould in charge. This will be transferred to the main office, San Luis Obispo. He left Coalinga on Wednesday of this week. After reporting to the main office, he will take a short vacation. Gould's duties will supersede his visiting Coalinga occasionally, where he has a post of friends.

BIDS ARE CONTINGENT UPON FREIGHT RATES

Porterville's Water System
May Be Delayed Until Coming Spring.

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 17.—Announcement that the Inter-State Commerce Commission will not put the new freight rates into effect until November 15th is the cause of no little dissatisfaction to the engineers who are in charge of the proposed extensions and addition to the city water works system.

The bids for the thirty or forty carloads of iron pipe which will be necessary for this work were conditioned upon their being shipped "not earlier than the 15th of October, since it was believed that the new rates would go into effect at that time. Now, since the rates have been delayed another month, it will also mean that work on the water works can not start until at least one month after November 15th, as the pipe will come from the East, and at the very best deliveries can not be made in less than a month.

It is possible that some of the large coast brokers in water works supplies can be induced to deliver from stock here on the basis of the new rates. If this can be arranged, the work will start at once. Otherwise it will be next spring before the extensions will be made, as the new freights mean an increase of about $1000 in the price of the necessary pipe alone. All fittings and other materials will be correspondingly less as well.

Some idea of the force of the blow may be gained by the fact that the left hand lamp bracket on the car was bent back flush with the surface to which it is fastened and the heavy brass lamp was crushed like an eggshell. One end of a 2x4 used as a brace and which projected a little beyond the line of the fence was fairly buried in the flesh of his right thigh, making a horrible bruise, the entire weight of the car pinning him by the front fender to the heavy timbers behind him. As rapidly as possible the car was run back and Rohlic fell to the floor. He was taken home in a car and medical assistance secured. An examination showed that to Rohlic's splendid physique no bones were broken, but his bruises will keep him in bed for weeks.

OIL MAN ARRESTED FOR EMBEZZLEMENT

Harry E. Sinclair, President of Hi-bernian Petroleum, is Accused

By Director.

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 17.—Harry E. Sinclair, president of the Hi-bernian Petroleum Company, was arrested here yesterday on a charge of embezzlement. His bonds were fixed at $5000, which he was unable to furnish. The charges against Sinclair were brought by J. J. Denel, recently made one of the directors of the company. It is alleged that money voted for the payment of various bills was appropriated by Sinclair for his own use. The company is well known here, being made up largely of local people.

HENRY MILLER COMES IN SHELDON'S GREAT PLAY

"The Havoc" Will Be Powerful Drama Tuesday Night.

H. S. Sheldon, author of "The Havoc" in which Henry Miller will be seen at the Bijou next Tuesday evening, is the son of one of the playwrights who turned actor to earn the technique of his profession. Like Arthur Wing Pinero and Charles Duni, Kennedy, not forgetting Shadwell and others, Mr. Sheldon worked out his first plays by day while he was studying at night the effects of various dramatic situations on varying audiences.

Mr. Sheldon had his first acting experience as a "temper" at Forough's Theater in Philadelphia. He was a member of "Red Hat" company five years ago; supported Mrs. Lester Carter in "Adrea" and followed Edna Brozzo as Prince Phadri in "The Shepherd King," with Wright, during 1910. He has also played leading roles in melodramatic productions, and stock repertory, and has headed casts in variety sketches. This training has taught him the tricks of the trade, as well as the value of dramatic effects, and has given him an excellent education in the use of the English language.

When he arrived in America from Copenhagen, his birthplace, eight years ago, Mr. Sheldon was unable to speak a word of English. He had been a writer in Denmark, but his pen was useless in the United States until he mastered the language. While all the confidence of twenty-five years of youth he started west "to grow up with the country," and find his fortune. He got as far as Chicago, where he obtained employment and rapidly a knowledge of the English language. After a winter in the big Wisconsin city, Mr. Sheldon turned East and made other theatrical experiences in Philadelphia. Soon after he became an author he began to write plays and vaudeville sketches.

Bethel's Furniture," in which he played the leading role at Proctor's theater in New York. He followed that with "Most Men's Strength," which was successful in New York and in which he played the vaudeville hours from coast to coast. His next success was a one-act character act called "The Husband," in which he occupied the stage from 10 to twelve consecutive days. These three plays are now being acted in vaudeville by other players, and Mr. Sheldon has, in addition to these, 22 successful one-act plays, all of which are being presented today in various vaudeville houses.

These dramatic sketches have made a remarkable record of success, and the royalties they earn enable Mr. Sheldon to turn his attention to larger plays. "The Havoc" is the first three-act drama he has written in the legitimate theaters, but he has to date some new plays, two of which have been accepted by well-known New York producing managers, and will be put on the stage this season.

ORDINANCE CALLS FOR WIRE MUZZLES

CITY Health Officer Alkin has been giving the notice that the new ordinance is to apply to the leather strap muzzle for dogs and whippet muzzles for foxes. For the preference, independent of the doctor's advice, the announcement is made by the city clerks office that the strap muzzle is not a compliance with the ordinance. The ordinance is a copy of one once enforced in Los Angeles and section 2 describing the muzzle to be worn by dogs reads:

DEFAULT JUDGMENT AGAINST DISPERATI

Letter Sent By Him From Vancouver Acknowledges the Money Indebtedness.

Judgment by default was awarded yesterday by Judge Austin in the suit of G. A. Phenegar of Merced against E. Disperati, formerly of Modena and now a resident of Vancouver, B. C. The suit was to recover on four notes and an indebtedness amounting to $1583, with interest from September, 1910 on notes and December, 1909 on the loan. Disperati's acknowledgement of the indebtedness was proven by a letter in Italian sent by him from Vancouver asking Phenegar to give him more time to pay up. An interesting feature of the case was an effort made to attach the Plaintiff's notes, each for $1170.80 and three Danti notes each for $2500, held by mortgage which latter James G. Leaverton and T. H. Phillips held as protection against their liability as the bondsmen for Disperati when he was fighting the Miller & Luis charges of bringing stolen livestock from Modena into Fresno county. Disperati was found guilty, but the judgment reversed on appeal. The six notes under attachment were in the possession of the Bank of Central California for safe keeping.

BALANCE PAID UP ON $75,000 NOTE

Upon settlement of the claim sued on, dismissal was consented to yesterday in the suit of John D. W. and T. W. Patterson against La Fuyorita and Paragon Vineyard companies to foreclose mortgage. — The suit was to recover a balance of $62,448.88 with $4984.00 interest on a mortgage secured note for $75,000 for one year dated January 15, 1906 and drawn 5 per cent. The note by the two companies was signed by Frank J. Powers as vice president and Charles E. Lang a secretary.

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS ARE SENT TO PRESTON

Eugene Alder and Earl Stanley accused of burglary, having pleaded guilty to two charges were sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge Austin to the industrial school at Preston. They are 16 years of age and they are committed until they are 21 or for other cause are discharged before arriving at seniority. Alder's mother, Mrs. Jeanette Green, lives at Seattle, Wash., and Stanley's in San Francisco. He professes not to know where his father is. The commitment of the boys and the papers were made out in a hurry to permit Deputy Sheriff Laird to start the youngsters to Preston by the evening train.

PORLTAND, Aug. 17.—Portland won today's game in a ninth inning rally, in which three hits made by the Beavers materialized in two runs. Lindsay, in the sixth reached home, but Umpire Hildebrand called him out for failing to touch third base. Both pitchers were hit hard, but splendid fielding held the score down. INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 17.—That the American Association baseball magnates will refuse to renew their year agreement now in existence among clubs in the National Association of professional baseball clubs, which expires September 6, is the prevailing opinion in baseball circles here. It is claimed that the agreement works a great disadvantage to the clubs in the Association.

Under the present classification the American Association, the Western League and the Pacific Coast League are on equal standing with the American Association and the Eastern League, as far as the buying, selling and drafting of players and the protection of property rights are concerned. The American Association club owners object to being placed on the same footing with the three leagues named for the reason, it is asserted, that these clubs do not have much more than half of the playing population that the association have.

The drafting of one player by the major leagues from each team in the association is not the only hardship worked on these clubs. They say they are handicapped in building up winning teams, since they are unable to go out and compete with the major league clubs in buying in the market and they are practically prohibited from placing promising material with teams in smaller leagues. Any player bought is subject to draft, and any player placed with a smaller league may be grabbed the same way unless he is returned to the American Association clubs before August 20, while the major leagues may place a player of promise with any of the minor clubs with a string to him.

It is understood the American Association magnates will demand that they be placed on a more equal footing with the American and National League teams or they will refuse to continue under the present agreement.

KID KENNETH TRYING TO ARRANGE MATCH WITH JACK GEYER

COALINGA, Aug. 17.—Kid Kenneth, a local heavyweight, left on the 5:30 train last evening for Taft. Kenneth stated that he was not sure as to what his immediate actions would be in the southern field, but said he would probably be matched with Jack Geyer, who knocked out "Gumboat" Smith in that city Tuesday night. Just prior to the fight, Kenneth received a communication from the athletic club asking him if he would challenge the winner of the go. Kenneth was willing and has gone to Taft for the purpose of arranging for the bout.

It is understood the American Association magnates will demand that they be placed on a more equal footing with the American and National League teams or they will refuse to continue under the present agreement.

NEVILLS VINEYARD PICTURE OF FRESNO

IS BOUGHT FOR $150,000

GIRL IS SELECTED TO ADVERTISE FAIR

Miss May Deyo Chosen as Figures Compiled By Firm

Typical Californian Type of Beauty.

To advertise the 1911 exposition in San Francisco, the picture of Miss May Deyo, formerly of this city, but now of San Francisco, will appear on thousands of post cards as exemplifying the beauty for which California women are noted. The idea of using the picture of a pretty girl to call attention to the fair originated with the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Co., and Miss Deyo was chosen.

In all the post card pictures, Miss Deyo appears with a hat, around which is a silk band with the words "San Francisco, 1911" in raised letters. Miss Deyo is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Deyo of this city.

MISS CORLEW LAID TO HER LAST REST

Many Friends Pay Last Tribute to Dead Teacher at Funeral Service.

With the chapel at Stephens & Bean's undertaking parlor crowded to the doors, the funeral services over the late Miss Gladys Corlew were held yesterday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Conley, pastor of the Baptist church, officiated at the services. Many beautiful floral offerings surrounded the casket, which showed in what high esteem the young woman was held in this community.

The services were very short, but owing to the sudden death of Miss Corlew, many silent tears as Dr. Conley touched on her life. A large number of young girl friends of Miss Corlew attended the services. The pall-bearers were chosen from among the close young men friends of the deceased. Another vineyard he formerly owned, adjoining the Kearney estate, was sold some years ago.

Lisenby, one of the new owners, is cashier and manager of the People's Savings bank of this city, and Emirian is a vineyard owner whose holdings are already large.

BODY OF MRS. GIBBS SENT TO PASADENA

Mrs. Sarah A. Gibbs died at her home at 536 Neilson yesterday morning. The remains were shipped to Pasadena last night where they will be buried by the side of the husband. The death of Mrs. Gibbs in this city was not unexpected as she had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Gibbs was born in Ohio on March 6, 1858, and was 53 years of age. She came to this state twelve years ago and had lived in Fresno for the past ten years. She was a member of the North Side Christian church. Mrs. Nettie Coke of San Francisco, Mrs. F. E. Cook, and S. J. Gibbs of this city are the only children residing in California.

EINSTEIN HERE ON WAY TO BERKELEY

Edwin M. Elshofen, president of the University of California Club, which has just completed a successful tour of the Continent, passed through Fresno at 2 p.m. yesterday, en route to Berkeley, where the singers were due yesterday. He found it impossible to stop here at the time Einstein has established an enviable reputation in handling the club first on a successful tour of the United States and then on the triumphant tour of the principle cities of Great Britain and Europe.

WINE GRAPE CROP CUT DOWN BY THE WEATHER

Gier Says Cool Spell Has Hurt "Dry Wine" Districts Materially.

That the wine grape crop in the "dry wine" districts of the state has been reduced in a third less than the crop of last year by the cold weather that has prevailed through the usual heating term, is the statement made by Theodore Gier, one of the state's large operators. Gier made this statement in Stockton, where the crop is said by the wine makers to be rather large. With the crop known to be short here because of the heavy frost early in the season, it is believed the reduction in the state's total output through cool weather cannot but be felt all along the line.

The cool weather had prevented the grapes setting properly, according to Gier, and he figured that a lot would be lost by wineries in Alameda, Napa, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Sonoma and Santa Cruz counties, his estimate.

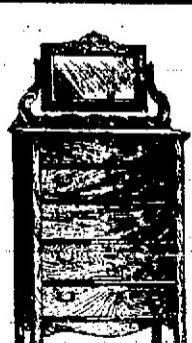

Gier is further quoted as saying that "the wine war to be waged in the Fresno and Sacramento sections, which are known as the 'dry-wine' districts, will not affect the Stockton country."

ST. JOSEPH: Mon. Aug. 17.—Charles R. Worley, 42 years old, one of the best known Shiriners in the country, was found dying late last night in his apartments here. His head was in a bath of water.

Worley was the step-son of Judge Willard, who was a law-partner of former President McKinley.

DECLARES HALF OF NEW RAISIN CROP IS NOW SOLD TO PACKERS

Here Show 20,000 Tons Bought.

Eastern Trade Said to Be But a Quarter Up on Requirements.

That approximately one-half of the new crop of muscats is now sold from growers to packers, and that about a quarter of the eastern requirements are now filled was a resume of the situation given by a local packer yesterday. He produced figures to prove the amount of new goods contracted for now by all the packing firms, allowing 25 per cent off for shortage of the crop, light weight in drying, etc., is 19,000 tons. In face of these figures, he stated positively that corrections to date would bring the total amount over 20,000 tons, or a half of the new crop as it is now listed.

Some buying is said to be still in progress, though the packers in general are playing the hold-out game just now. It is stated on the way that two firms of some importance have now taken up the game and are adopting the buy-low tactics as a counter to the strong feeling of the growers.

On the other hand, a sale received yesterday by a Fresno packer from Chicago was to the effect that stocks East are now low, and that the trade cannot continue its present policy of holding off the market, for the simple reason that it will be forced to pay to cover requirements before the new crop here moves.

Some business is now being done with the East on old crop stuff.

The usual price now quoted is 80¢ per ton sealed, though, the Fresno Home Insurance at 10¢ higher as for this stock, and has moved some other goods in the last few days at 80¢.

NEEDHAM WRITES OF FIGHT OVER LEMONS

Says Only President Kept California Product Off Free List.

CONGRESSMAN NEEDHAM

Answers to Your Questions

Dear Sir: I have your telegram in regard to the lemon question and have no need contents thereof.

I have been ill in bed for more than a week, hence the delay in replying.

I entirely agree with your position upon this question. I made a special study of the matter when the tariff bill was up for consideration two years ago, and I am convinced that the rate of 1½¢ on lemons is entirely justified from the protective standpoint and ought to be maintained. The action of Chairman Underwood of the Ways and Means committee in moving to insert lemons in the free list bill as a part of his motion to send the same bill to conference was unprecedent and unfair in the extreme. This motion to include lemons in this bill was made twice when the bill was in the house and ruled out of order by the chairman of the Committee of the Whole. When this same bill reached the senate a motion to include lemons was defeated upholding my bill consequently, by all the precedents we have a right to suppose both houses having ruled it out an amendment that would settle the matter so far as that particular bill was concerned. The action of the chairman is inexplicable but it goes to show much consideration the industries of California would receive if the enemies of protective tariff were in full control. The fact of the matter is that there is no doubt but what lemons would go on the free list at this time both in the house and the senate if it were not for the President. If this action shall serve to arouse the people of California to the real danger, it will have a beneficial effect.

I have voted against every tariff bill during the present session except the bill on sugar, which stands by itself as a distinct entity. I thought I could foresee that if California representatives voted to retain the tariff without information, and without a report from the tariff board, they could not object if our industries were subjected to the same treatment.

Very truly yours,

J. C. NEEDHAM,
Washington, Aug. 9, 1911.

Very sincerely yours,

COORE DU ROIS,
Associate District Forester
